Bio

Shay Chenette is Tulsa, OK native who and attended Oral Roberts University. Her work strives to explore and connect the diaspora with each other and deeper within themselves. Chenette launched her brand, Shop Girls & Curls in 2015 with the purpose of providing ethnic images for children and women with customized products. The world changed in 2020, custom products became more frustrating and mechanical than a creative release for the artist. Chenette now focuses solely on visual and digital art that reflects current socio-economic times, history, movers and shakers in our community, with relentless passion and study.
